

CARGO 1.2.3 is now available

Dear CARGO enthusiasts.

After about two months from the last release, CARGO 1.2.3 is now ready.

This new version comes with only one new feature, support for setting JBoss AJP ports (CARGO-1112).

Apart from that, this version fixes the below bugs:

- ANT tasks and Maven2/Maven3 plugin:
  - The `cargo:run` MOJO and run ANT task now try to stop the container (via shutdown hook) when CTRL + C is pressed (CARGO-1124)
- Maven2/Maven3 plugin fixes:
  - `cargo:run` now deploys all WARs; as the `<deployables>` element has been centralized (CARGO-1114)
  - The interaction between the CARGO Maven2/Maven3 plugin and Maven proxy settings have been reviewed to function in an homogeneous manner (CARGO-1119 and CARGO-1121)
- General fixes:
  - The configuration of `<cargo.servlet.users>` does not require a role anymore (CARGO-526)
- Container-specific fixes:
  - Jetty 7.x and 8.x Remote Deployment now works properly if Jetty-JNDI is active (CARGO-1122 and CARGO-1123)
  - Jetty installed local deployer has been fixed to be able of deploying sub-contexts (CARGO-1125)
  - `jboss.server.lib.url` is now correctly handled (CARGO-1110)
  - WARs can now be deployed on JBoss 7.x and 7.1.x containers' root context (CARGO-1090)
  - JBoss 7.x and 7.1.x containers' bind address can now be set to `0.0.0.0` (CARGO-1111)
  - Tomcat NIO connectors now work properly with CARGO (CARGO-1115)
