

KML DataStore

Target

A DataStore capable of reading the data from KML files and serve them as simple features (ignoring the style information).

Motivation

Users may want to use data inside kml files as input for a data store.

Approach

Geotools supports parsing KML files in to features. The appropriate classes for the existence of a data store need to be created.